The Senior Learning Facilitator Programme Skills Framework

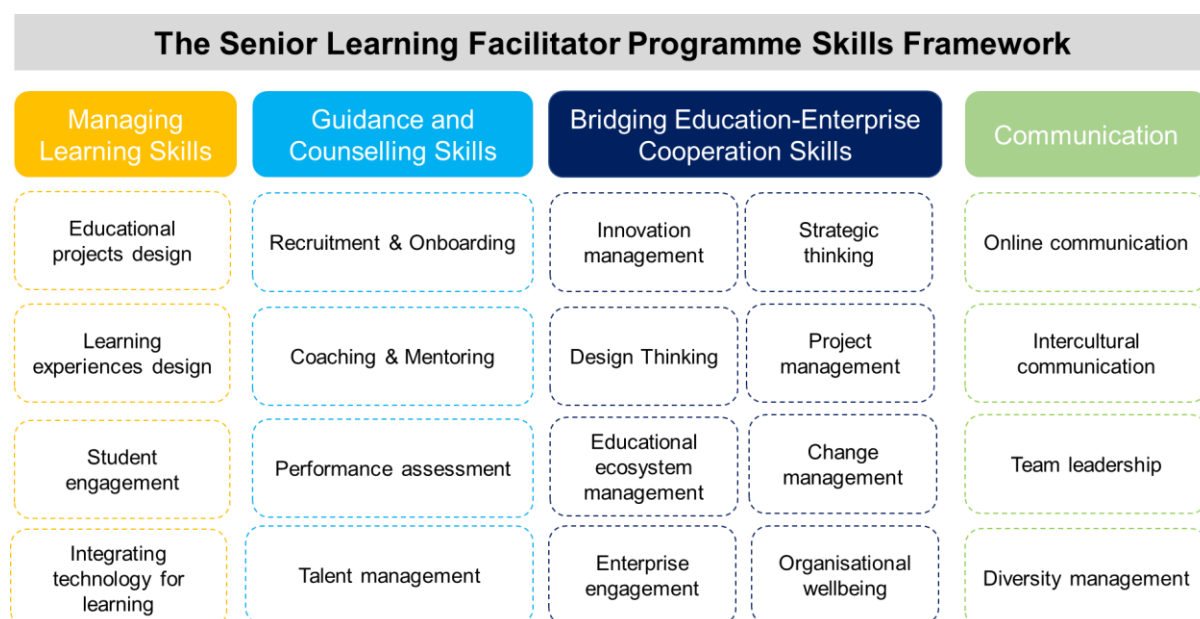

SEAL -Seniors' Learning Value is an ERASMUS+ KA2 Project aimed at designing and experimenting, with new methods, the recruitment and training of trainers and mentors among senior workers, who can thus develop skills and competences according to a personalized learning pathway and act as a learning facilitator with potential empowered functions in peer and informal learning processes in SME-Small & Medium-sized Enterprises- and in Feedback Loop Systems .

The SEAL project is aimed to emerge the know-how represented by senior workers, that is to say workers with a very advanced levels of technical competences, that can be strategically employed to facilitate and strengthen the processes of in-company training and/or work-based learning for different potential beneficiaries.

The SEAL Consortium integrates six partners with relevant expertise in university social responsibility, community engagement and service learning: Sistemi Formativi Confindustria \(IT\) - coordinator, University Politehnica of Bucharest \(RO\), CIS- Business Management School \(IT\), FH JOANNEUM University of Applied Sciences \(AT\), ARGO \(IT\), The Janusz Korzak Pedagogical University of Warsaw \(PL\) and Formation et Insertion Professionnelle de L'Academie de Grenoble \(FR\).

The Programme Skills Framework took shape from needs assessment and exploratory research activities and consultation with various categories of experts in the field of secondary and tertiary education, educators, industry representatives, policymakers and NGOs. The following four categories of skills were developed and then matched with essential skills: managing learning skills; guidance and counselling skills, bridging education-enterprise cooperation skills, and communication skills.

The essential skills are listed in the image below.

Target Audience

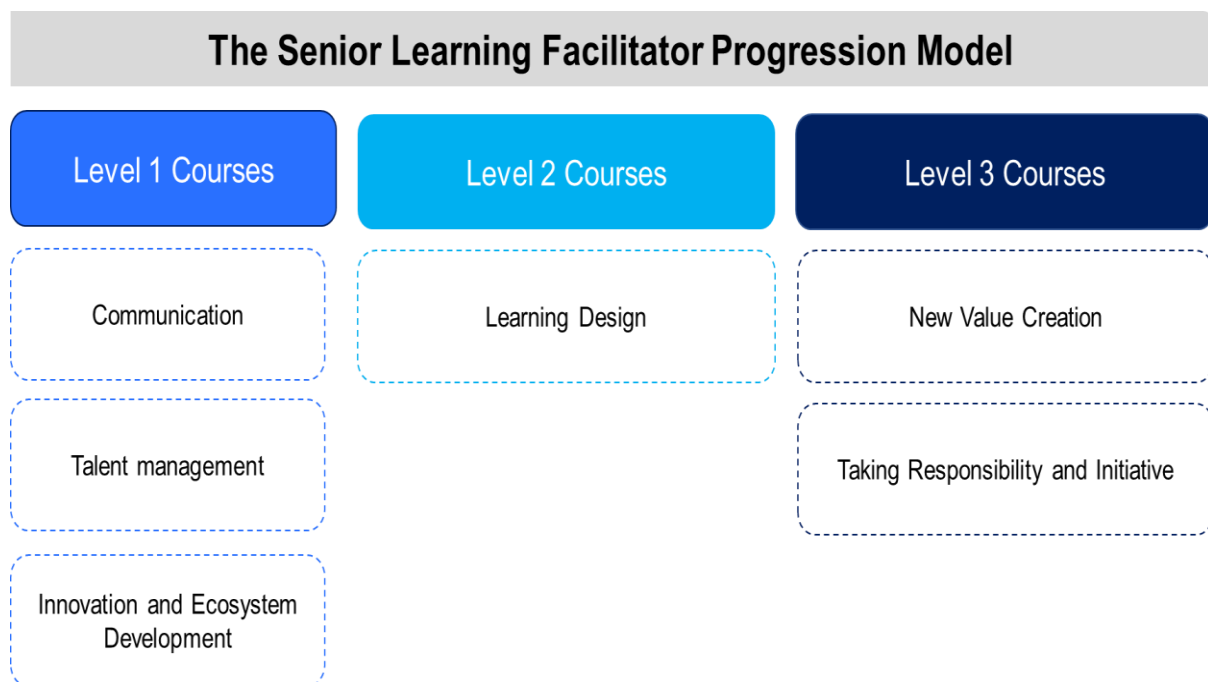

This training programme is addressed to teachers, trainers, HR professionals, educational staff, school and education managers, educational and career counsellors, other school staff, other adult education staff, other higher education staff, other non-governmental organization staff, learning designers, public servants, policy makers.

Structure of the programme

Before you start the courses in this training programme, here are some general recommendations to help you make the most of this learning journey.

The training programme includes 6 courses, organised on 3 levels of proficiency: level 1 courses, level 2, courses, level 3 courses. Courses are made up of modules. The 6 courses comprise 21 modules. The courses and the respective modules have been developed to help you train to become a Senior Learning Facilitator (SLF). You can also use these modules to teach staff from any workplace where SLF's skills are needed. The issues covered in these Modules are areas of concern in many workplaces: schools, universities, companies or NGOs.

Level 1 courses are the fundamental conditions and conduct to core skills, knowledge, attitudes and values that are essential for further learning throughout the entire SLF training process. Level 1 comprises three courses (see Figure 2). The courses propose a 'people-and-places' approach. Thus, the approach is people oriented and advances strategic thinking to drive excellence and to build talent. Courses at this level are compulsory for all learners regardless of previous professional experience and background.

Level 2 (see Figure 3) guides the learning design process in different environments. In addition, learners will be introduced to the design of learning activities that foster student engagement in entrepreneurship. The Learning design course consists of 3 modules. You are required to complete at least 1 module of your choice from the three available.

Level 3 courses (see Figure 4) are oriented towards challenge management. Creating new value means innovating to shape better lives, such as creating new opportunities and services, and developing new knowledge, insights, ideas, techniques, strategies and solutions, and applying them to problems both old and new. Taking responsibility is connected to SLF self-agency and self-empowerment to thrive, change and connect people and places in innovative ways. At this level you are required to complete at least one module of each course.
